About The Searching For Bigfoot Live Capture Team

To prove that Bigfoot exists the Searching For Bigfoot Live Capture Team expeditions cover Bigfoot hotspots across the USA. The team travels to locations where sightings and encounters activity have been reported. They interview the eyewitnesses, go to the sightings locations, track, gather evidence, conduct night time (peak Bigfoot traveling and food gathering activity times) stake outs, set up motion sensor cameras, search for and investigate evidence. The Team often goes into deep wilderness areas to explore activity reports.

These expeditions have produced extensive hours of raw footage which the company plans to use for video, show and movie development. Negotiations have been initiated with 3D Movie production companies to produce Bigfoot 3D movies. Established production companies with affiliated networks are also being sought to work on a new reality based Bigfoot Hunt show.
